ALLEN GILLON

BREAKOUT!

Would you believe Maxwell Smart and 99 caught the crooks trying to break INTO prison in a balloon? I find that hard to believe, Max!

Grades 3 - 12

ABOUT THE AUTHOR: Born in Bowraville NSW, Allen Gillon qualified as a Teacher for the NSW Department Of Education in 1964, spending almost 25 years as a Primary Teacher. During that time Mr Gillon completed additional courses in musical arrangement at Sydney Conservatorium Of Music. He has written and had published a number of classroom texts, currently in use in Australian Schools. His musical training and experience resulted in his being granted many play and drama assignments, including a huge production of "Oliver" in the Penrith Department Region in 1977, co-ordinating 3 Primary schools, a 250 piece choir and a 13 member orchestra. Mr Gillon's love of writing and school performances led him to write and produce many plays. Public acceptance and the success of these plays led to the production of this publication.

OVERVIEW

LOTS OF FUN!

Aussies love the underdog. Breakout! gives children an opportunity to laugh and experience the irony and slapstick humour of Maxwell Smart and 99. Also, a gang of laughable crooks and Dr Watt, Dr Cobbity and their assistants, produce laughing gas and a secret new anti-puncture gas in their Laboratory.

INVOLVEMENT

Art and Craft lessons can prepare for "On the rock pile". There can be lots of paper mache rocks, rubber hammers and balls and chains. Guards can carry batons and swinging key chains. Students can prepare for the Laboratory scenes with plastic bottles and pipes for experiments. Parents can be involved by supplying empty "Gas" bottles for the gangsters to steal, plus costumes.

SONGS

"On the Chain Gang"

"Working for the Man"

"Up! Up! And Away"

Cinderella, Rockefella"

Alternative songs appropriate to the generation may be used.

LENGTH

The Play is about 45 mins long. It may be lengthened by adding other songs into ACT 1, 2 and 3. An Interval could be inserted before ACT 4.

BREAKOUT!

THE CHARACTERS

Shifty	- Gang leader
Bluey	- Shifty's offsider
Guards	- a number of Prison guards
Donga	- Gang member
Smithy	- Gang member
Smokey	- Gang member
Booza	- Gang member
Gunny	- Gang member
Dr Watt	- Laboratory Scientist
Vogel	- assistant
Dr Cobbity	- Laboratory Scientist
Meadows	- assistant
Smart	- Agent 86
99	- Smart's assistant
Magistrate	- Court Magistrate
Bailiff	- Court assistant
Warden	- Prison Warden

Depending on the size of the stage, many prisoners and guards can have non-speaking roles. Similarly in the Laboratory, there can be other assistants, hot ice and experiments going on.

If the Play is performed by a School, perhaps Lab coats and protective glasses together with plastic test tubes, beakers, burners and piping etc. can be utilised for the "Science Lab" scenes. Rubber sledge hammers and rubber balls and chains can add humour to the prison rock pile scenes.

BREAKOUT!

- ACT 1 Scene 1: Shifty and Bluey on the rock pile.
Choir and prisoners sing "Chain Gang".
- ACT 2 Scene 1: Bumbling gang members in their hideout.
"How can we get Shifty out of prison?"
Song "Working For The Man".
- ACT 2 Scene 2: Gang: "Don't know what we'll do!"
Song "Working for the Man".
"Let's steal bottles of gas for a balloon flight".
Choir sings "Up! Up! And Away!"
- ACT 3 Scene 1: Scientists discussing their new invention.
Song "Cinderella, Rockafella".
- ACT 3 Scene 2: Gang steal bottles of gas.
Scientists: "We've been robbed!"
Maxwell Smart and 99 on the shoe phone.
- ACT 4 Scene 1: Gang open a bottle of laughing gas.
Up goes the balloon!
- ACT 4 Scene 2: "Stop you thieves!" say Smart and 99 and Scientists.
"Let's get the prisoners over to the Court House".
- ACT 5 Scene 1: In front of curtains: The Magistrate officiates.
- ACT 5 Scene 2: Back at the Prison. Max and 99 on the rock pile.
Songs "Working For The Man" and "Chain Gang"

BREAKOUT!

ACT 1 Scene 1

Curtains open – prisoners in chains with sledge hammers – some busting rocks – others preparing chow – some getting mush on a plate – choir singing “Chain Gang” – Guards and prisoners choreographed with the music. Song fades, dinner bell rings as guards push prisoners into line for water.

BLUEY: (Looking at his hands – loud whisper) Hey Shifty! We gotta get outa this place ... I’m getting blisters on my blisters!

SHIFTY: Shhhh!! You wanna get us more rocks to bust.

BLUEY: Well what happened to

SHIFTY: (Indicating Guard coming over to them) Shhhh!!

GUARD: Get in line and shut up you two. (Prisoners shuffle into position)

BLUEY: (As Guard walks away) What happened to our gang, Boss? They were supposed to bust us out last week.

SHIFTY: (As they walk away from water line with their mugs) Don’t know. They said they would be coming over the wall. (Point upwards)

BLUEY: Maybe their ladder was too short!

SHIFTY: (Knocks Bluey’s hat off) This is no time for funnies. We gotta get outa here or Big Tony will take over all of our operations down town. (Guard walks towards them).

GUARD: (Shouts) Are you two still yapping? (Grabs Bluey by the shoulder – pushes him around) I’ll have you two up before the Warden if you keep it up. Now get in the food line and stop the talkin’. (They move along). (Guard moves away).

SHIFTY: Well there's not much we can do from here. That Guard has got eyes like a hawk!

BLUEY: Yeh! Well the gang should have busted out by now.

SHIFTY: We'll give 'em another couple of days. If they don't show up by then (slams fist into his hand) Pow! I'm gonna break more than rocks around here.

BLUEY: (Loudly) And as for that agent Maxwell Smart ...

SHIFTY: If I ever get my hands on Smart for helping put us in here ... (Picks up hammer).

BLUEY: Yeh! ... and his partner, 99 ... (All begin breaking rocks again).

SHIFTY: Wait 'till we get off this chain gang ... I'll show 'em!
Choir begins singing "Chain Gang" as curtain closes.

ACT 2 Scene 1

IN FRONT OF CURTAINS - outside Shifty's Hideout. Couple of street lights, bins etc.

DONGA: (Strolling along) There must be some way we can get the boss and Bluey over that wall, Smithy.

SMITHY: Well we've been scratching our heads for a month now and there just ain't no way into that place.

DONGA: (As they near a garbage bin) What about the old "hide in the garbage bin" trick? We could jump up in a garbage truck.

SMITHY: Nah! Them guards inspect every bin on the truck.

DONGA: (Stopping to express his idea) How about a tunnel?

SMITHY: (Scoffs) What! Dig a tunnel into jail? Not me!

DONGA! (Laughing) We might come up through the Warden's kitchen floor! (Smithy laughs!) And he'd probably throw his apron at us! (Ha! Ha!)

SMITHY: Or we might come up through his bathroom floor and catch him in the tub! (Ha! Ha!)

DONGA: (Moving to centre stage) Well let's go in and see the gang. (Curtains open)

SMITHY: Yeh! They're waiting for some news about the Boss in prison.

ACT 2 Scene 2

Curtains open to show other members of the gang in Hideout.

DONGA: Howdy boys. (All Hello, Hi! Etc) Still no news about Shifty and Bluey!

SMOKEY: I know one thing. If we don't spring 'em out of jail soon our days will be numbered.

BOOZA: Yeh! Big Tony has already taken over half of the pinball machines in our territory ...

GUNNY: ... and he's cutting off supplies to our grog shops!

SMITHY: It won't be long before he'll be after US!

DONGA: Well let's do some more head scratching boys. We've gotta get 'em out of the clink! (All walk around scratching heads etc.)

BOOZA: Our Pinball alleys are gone ...
(Stopping one at a time)

GUNNY: Our sly grog shops are gone ...

SMOKEY: We really need our man, Shifty!

DONGA: Yeh! Shifty, he's the man.

CHOIR: "Hey! Now, you'd better listen to me every one of you."

ALL GANG: "Ooh!" (A-la-Roy Orbison version)

SMITHY: "We got a lotta, lotta, lotta lotta work to do."

ALL GANG plus CHOIR: "Ooh!"

SMOKEY: GUNNA: BOOZA: "Forget about your women and that water can."

ALL GANG plus CHOIR: "Ooh!"

DONGA and SMITHY: "Today you're working for the man!"

CHOIR: "Woh! Woh! Woh!" (etc. – to end of song)

DONGA: (as song finishes) Now let's get back to thinking boys. There's gotta be a way of getting Shifty and Bluey out of that place.

BOOZA: Hey! I know, we could hijack a helicopter and fly over the wall!

SMOKEY: (throwing something at him) Nah! That'd be too noisy, stupid.

BOOZA: Then, a balloon. We could go quietly over the wall in a balloon.

DONGA: That's not as stupid as it sounds. Them guards don't wear guns. We could surprise 'em all!

BOOZA: Just picture it ... a slow descent (with actions) in the balloon, onto the rock pile ...

SMITHY: Shifty and Bluey jump in the basket ...

GUNNY: Throw out the ballast ...

BOOZA: Up, up and away, over the wall!

DONGA: We'd have 'em out in a mo' ... how about that boys?

ALL: (Excitedly ...Yeh! Sounds great! OK! Etc ...)

DONGA: Then, that's it! We'll fly in ... in a balloon ...

BOOZA: I've been up in one ... and I know where we can get one.

SMITHY: But, we're gonna need gas aren't we ... to blow up the balloon?

DONGA: Where are we gonna get balloon gas?

GUNNY: The Krazee Chemical Factory down the road. They make gas. All sorts of gas. We could sneak in tonight and get a couple of bottles for the balloon.

DONGA: OK! Smokey, you take the boys down to that factory tonight. See if you can get us some bottles of balloon gas.

SMOKEY: Right Donga. OK! Boys, get a couple of flashlights.

BOOZA: I'll get some tools to get into the place.

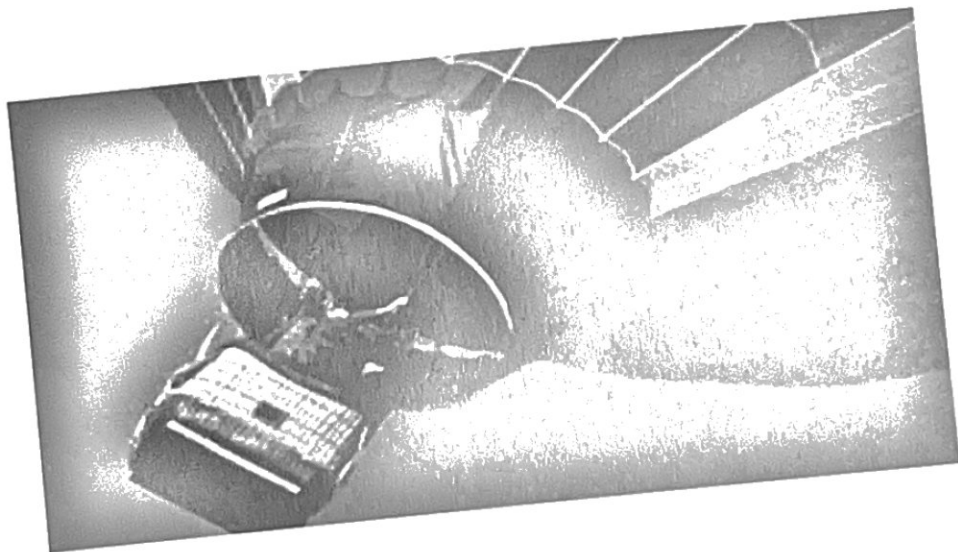

SMOKEY: Great idea boys ... this is gonna work! (As they exit) We'll fly in, Heh!

BOOZA: Boy! I've never been up in a balloon before. (To Gunny) What's it like?

GUNNY: It's great! You just fill her up with gas and up she goes ... up, up and away! (As song, "Up, Up and Away" starts)

CHOIR SINGS: "Up, Up and Away" (Gang can join in with fun actions)

ACT 3 Scene 1

LABORATORY OF "KRAZEE CHEMICALS" Beakers, test tubes, burners etc.

Dr Cecelia Watt is working on a new Gas. Lots of balloons, inflated car tubes, bike tubes, hot ice, coloured liquids and pipes etc. Vogel, her assistant is standing at a bench holding a bike wheel. Other assistants are nearby working on experiments.

DR WATT: Won't be long now Vogel ... just one more test and I think we'll have perfected the "anti-puncture" gas!

VOGEL: (Looking over his glasses) Oh! Your inventions are wonderful, Dr Watt.

DR WATT: Just think, Whenever you get a puncture in your bike from now on Vogel, this gas (pointing at gas bottle) in the tube will lose pressure ... then it will expand ... and seal off the hole. (Excitedly) Won't that be wonderful?

VOGEL: No More changing tyres on wet rainy nights!

DR COBBITY: (From across the lab) Yes! Yes! But, what about the other little problem?

MEADOWS: That's right, Cobbity. Let's not forget ... it will have to carry a warning, "Not to be used in aeroplane tyres or high altitude balloons!"

DR COBBITY: Exactly, Meadows. That gas will explode if it is raised off the ground ... even just 100 meters! KaPow!

DR WATT: Well, we have a deadline to meet. We'll work on that little problem later. No one rides their bike 100 meters in the air! (All laugh!) Vogel, let's give it a final test.

VOGEL: (Clearing off the bench and holding the wheel) Dr Cobbity, would you pass me that spike we've been using, please?

DR COBBITY: (picks up a large nail) Here it is. Where would you like me to stick it?

DR WATT: Now, now Cobbity, You help Vogel hold the wheel while I puncture it. (Pushes spike through tyre) There! (Hissing noise can be heard ... then silence).

VOGEL: It worked again!! Dr Watt, your invention works! Look the tyre has inflated itself.

DR COBBITY: You've done it Dr Watt. Congratulations!
No more punctures!

VOGEL: We'll be famous! Like Rockefeller. (Music starts – introduction to song "Cinderella, Rockefeller" sung by Dr Watt and Vogel with Choir) (Others do choreography and sing along). SONG ENDS

MEADOWS: Now let's store that container in a very safe place ... we wouldn't want anyone to use it for the wrong purpose. I'll put a label on it. (Gets a large label)

DR WATT: Soon we can start working on the chemicals that will stop the gas from exploding 100 meters off the ground. (Tidying up the lab, heads for the exit)

DR COBBITY: Put it over here with these bottles of laughing gas ... then we won't get them mixed up.

VOGEL: (Cinically to the audience) We wouldn't want it to get into the wrong hands now, would we?

DR WATT: (To Vogel) Put the lights out dearest, we'll continue our work tomorrow. (Lights fade)

VOGEL: Coming Doc. (Scientists all exit as lights fade to darkened laboratory)

ACT 3 Scene 2

(Enter thieves – masks and torches. Smithy enters followed by Booza who trips over a chair ... loud whispers ... Shh!)

SMITHY: Shh! You goose! Do you want the cops onto us?

BOOZA: Sorry ... Smithy.

GUNNY: Look around for some big bottles with “Gas” written on them.

SMITHY: Hey! What’s this over here?

BOOZA: Yeh! There’s some. Couple of bottles of gas!

SMITHY: This one’s got a big “L” on it. What’s the “L” for?

GUNNY: Don’t know, but it’s gas ain’t it?

SMITHY: Bring a few bottles. There ought to be plenty there for a balloon.

BOOZA: Plenty. Just take it anyway. Now, let’s get out of here.

SMITHY: Come on you guys, give us a hand to carry these bottles!

DR WATT: (Voice off stage) Just a minute Vogel, I forgot my brief case. Did you say Something about a balloon? (Lights come on. Thieves scatter and hide)

DR WATT: (Enters scene) I’ll just be a moment ... (suddenly sees thieves – screams) ... Eeeeh! (Runs off stage ... thieves exit opposite side with gas bottles)
Vogel runs onto stage with Dr Watt just behind)

DR VOGEL: (Shouting) Stop! Stop! Thief!

DR WATT: (Screaming) Dr Cobbity, Meadows, come quickly.

VOGEL: (Enters stage) What? What's wrong? (Others enter)

DR WATT: We've been robbed. Thieves just took our gas.

VOGEL: (Whining) Who could do such a thing?

COBBITY: What did they take?

MEADOWS: (Pointing) The Laughing Gas is gone ... and the Anti-puncture Gas! Oh! No!

VOGEL: Well, it doesn't matter about the laughing gas, but the other gas is explosive!

MEADOWS: We'd better call the Police.

DR WATT: Vogel, dial 007 and tell them what's happened. (While Vogel is dialing) Oh! This is so terrible (picking up test tubes etc.) Our secret invention stolen.

MEADOWS: And a bottle of laughing gas.

VOGEL: Hello! Hello! Police? Yes. I'd like to report a robbery ... (pause) ... It's the Krazee Chemical Factory ... Yes, that's the one ... You'll send someone immediately? Thank you. Please hurry! (Hangs up phone) (Immediately there's a loud knock on the door)

SMART: Police here! Open the door. (Scientists look amazed at each other)

COBBITY: Coming! (There's a crash as Smart and 99 run onto stage) Come in!

VOGEL: How did you get here so quickly?

SMART: Lady, we drive a Ferrari Sports with 4 barrel carby, twin overhead cam and lots of rubber on the road!

DR WATT: For a Police car? I find that hard to believe.

SMART: Would you believe an old Volkswagon with baldy tyres?

DR WATT: Well we're very happy to have you here on the case Sergeant ... er! ...

SMART: Smart, Maxwell Smart. And this here is my partner 99.

99: Pleased to meet you Doctor.

SMART: Now let's see. You had two bottles of gas ...

DR WATT: (cutting in) One was laughing gas and the other very dangerous ...

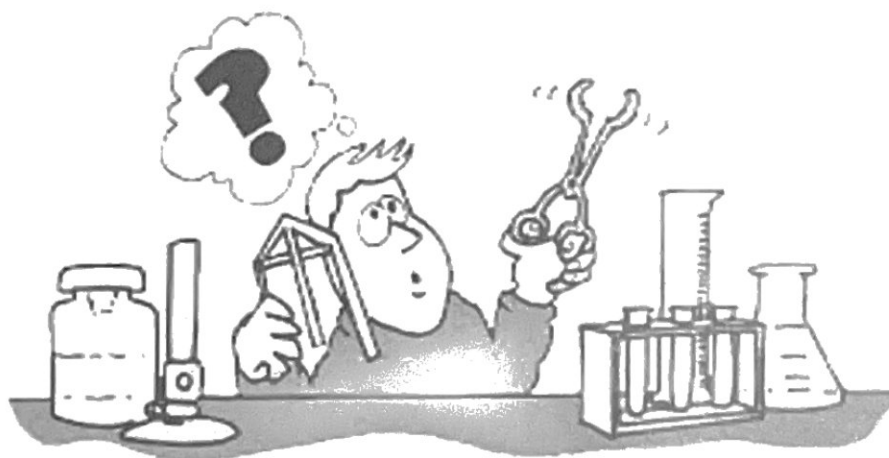

SMART: ... now that's a laugh, 99!

99: ... (Coyly) Maaax!

SMART: (moves toward front of stage) Thieves broke in and you disturbed them, huh! (All follow towards front of stage)

MEADOWS: Dr Watt forgot her/his briefcase ... (holding it up)

SMITHY: So we had to come back into the Lab ...

COBBITY: ... and they said something about filling a balloon.

SMART: What's in the briefcase? (taking it from Meadows' hand)

DR WATT: All my important secret notes and files ... (as Smart tries to open the briefcase) ... please be careful ... what's in that case is ...

SMART: (Still trying to open briefcase) Don't worry, Doc ... You can trust me, I've handled some of the toughest cases in history! (Briefcase snaps open and spills piles of papers all over stage) ... Err! Could you pick up a few of those while I ring the Chief, 99?

99: (Helping others pick up papers) Max, if they saw the robbers that means we can put out a description of them and send out an APB over the Police radio.

SMART: I know that 99. (Turns to others) Now if you saw the thieves we can put out a description of them and send out an APB over the Police radio.

99: You can use your shoe phone Max to call headquarters and give them a description.

SMART: I know that 99. (Turns to others) Now I'll use my special shoe phone to call headquarters and give them a description. (Takes off a shoe)

99: Max! (tapping him on the shoulder)

SMART: Would you stop interrupting me, 99? (Tries to rotate heel on shoe)

99: Max!

SMART: 99, would you stop it! (Screws even harder on the heel; it snaps off)

99: That's what I was trying to tell you Max!

ALL: Wrong shoe! (Max places heel on bench and takes off other shoe)

SMART: (Quickly dialling HQ) Hello! Headquarters? I'd like to report a broken shoe!

99: Max, the robbery!

SMART: Huh! Oh! Yeh! A robbery.

DR WATT: (To Smart) Now, they wore masks ...

COBBITY: (To Smart) ... and there were a few of them ..

SMART: (On the shoe phone) What do you mean, "Who are you?" This is Maxwell Smart, Agent 86!

VOGEL: (To Smart) ... and they carried guns, one in his left hand ...

MEADOWS: (To Smart) ... and one had a limp ...

SMART: (Still on phone) Spell it? M-A-X-W-E-L-L ... Huh! Oh! It's you Chief. We're at the Krazee Chemicals Factory.

DR WATT: (loudly towards phone) We've been robbed!

SMART: Description? Oh! Yes! There was one wearing two masks ... and he had a limp in his left hand ...

99: Maaax! (All scratch their heads and shrug)

SMART: Anyway Chief, it sounds like the rest of Shifty's gang to me ... you know the one's that got away.

99: (Leaning over to speak in shoe phone) They stole bottles of gas Chief. Maybe they're going to spring Shifty out of jail. (Max pulls the phone away to himself)

SMART: I know that 99. (Puts shoe back up to his ear) Don't worry Chief. I'll handle it from here. Not a thing will go wrong! (Trips over a chair. Puts his shoe back on. Picks up foot with shoe phone on) Err! Sorry about that! Over and out Chief! (Takes 99 by the elbow) Now 99, we'll take some of these people over to Shifty's hideout ... They might recognise some of the robbers.

99: They're sure to be there Max, scheming something crook.

SMART: I know that 99.

VOGEL: We're very worried about the bottles of gas they took Mr Smart.

DR WATT: Yes, one of them could explode.

SMART: Well, you sure make some weird stuff in this laboratory. What's this?
(Picks up an experiment that falls apart and breaks on the floor) Err! Sorry about that!

COBBITY: I heard them say something about going over in a balloon.
Do they mean over the wall of the jail?

DR WATT: The balloon could explode over the jail.

SMART: Well I'd better call the Warden and let him know Shifty's gang is going to drop in for a visit! Get it?

99: Maaax! I find that hard to believe!

COBBITY: They also took laughing gas, remember.

MEADOWS: It's not funny the second time, Cobbity!

SMART: Follow me everyone. We'll use the old gun in the pocket trick. Have this case wrapped up before you can say Jack Robinson.

ALL: I find that hard to believe!

NEAR SHIFTY'S HIDEOUT

Balloon Gondola (large basket or box will do for small performances) on the ground attached to a large plastic tarpaulin or sheet with strings to give balloon impression)
An electric fan is driving air into the "balloon" as though it's filling with gas.

DONGA: Right that bottle is empty, (moving the gas bottles around) now let's use this one with "L" on it.

BOOZA: (In the gondola pulling and attaching ropes and strings) Yeh! Then we'll be (sings) "Up, Up and Away!"

DONGA: Ah! Shadup, Booza, you'll puncture the balloon with your breath!

SMITHY: (trying to turn the tap on the other gas bottle) This one's really stiff!
(Tries even harder) Aah! That's got it!

GUNNY: Hurry up, Smithy! And put a hose on that tap. (Smithy attaches a small hose)
Now poke the hose into the balloon.

SMOKEY: (Grabbing the end of the hose) I'll do it. Hey! This smells funny. (Puts hose up to smell the gas) Sort of makes you feel (giggles) happy! (Laughs out loud – tries unsuccessfully to stop himself from laughing – rolls around the floor)

BOOZA: What's wrong with him? (Leaning out of gondola and grabbing the hose) Let me smell that stuff. (Starts laughing too ...)

SMITHY: (Grabs the hose and smells it) It's Laughing Gas, that's what the big "L" stands for!

(Smithy jumps into the basket with Booza. He attaches the hose as though helping to fill the balloon. They make motions that tell the audience that the balloon is beginning to rise. If possible, the gondola could be attached so that it rises out of site. CURTAINS begin to close as Donga, Gunny and Smokey are rolling about the floor laughing and high fiving each other).

(Choir could sing an appropriate song to allow time for basket and balloon to be moved)

ACT 4 Scene 2

(CURTAINS open as 99 and all the Scientists run onto stage. They could all run through theatre aisles if appropriate. Donga, Gunny and Smokey are still on the floor giggling loudly. The balloon and gondola have been moved from the Scene. Gas bottles and hoses are still there as evidence)

VOGEL: (Runs onto stage) There! There they are!

MEADOWS: (Shouts) You thieves, give us back our gas!

99: Where's Max? (looking around) And, what's wrong with these crooks?

DR WATT: We can tell you, 99. (smiling)

VOGEL: Yeh! It's the gas they stole. (laughing) They've been affected by it.

COBBITY: Put a handkerchief over your mouth everyone. (Walking out to audience) I mean you too, everyone ... or you'll all start laughing! (Waits for audience to react and get handkerchiefs out ... now it gets worse if you laugh ... stop that laughing).

SMART: (Runs onto stage, puffing loudly) Aah! Haa! Effected by poisonous gas Hey! (Moving people away from gang on the floor) Now stand back everybody. This calls for someone with a steady hand, nerves of steel and years of training in gas warfare!

99: But Max this gas is not poi ...

SMART: (Holding 99 – interrupting) Stand back 99. I once walked 10 km through clouds of poisonous Methane nerve gas ...

DR WATT: I find that hard to believe Mr Smart.

SMART: Would you believe I walked through a thick fog in Toowoomba one night, thick as pea soup! (or a nearby appropriate town)

MEADOWS: What were these criminals doing with our gas anyway?

99: It looks like they were going to fly over the walls onto the rock pile ...

COBBITY: (interrupting, pointing out the window) ... and pick up their leader in the basket! There they are up there ...

VOGEL: ... well, looks like they got up in the air. (turning to Dr Watt) That could be very dangerous though, Heh! Dr Watt. (Sudden explosion off stage – everyone looks up, hold their heads, duck behind furniture etc.)

99: (running to edge of stage – pointing) It's the balloon, it's coming down ... very fast ... looks like it has landed on top of the Warden's residence at the jail! (all point and look in that direction)

SMART: (Puts his hand in his jacket pocket) And I'm about to take this lot to join them ... with the old gun in the pocket trick (pointing his gun in his pocket). Stick 'em up you lot! (Gang and a few others raise their arms in the air)

99: We should take these prisoners straight over to the Court house Max!

SMART: I know that, 99.

DR WATT: Good work Mr Smart and 99. Hope no one broke anything ... (looking out window) ... when they fell out of the balloon onto the roof.

SMART: Well, they won't be bothering you again ma'am. After the Court case tomorrow, the only thing they'll be breaking is rocks ... for a long, long time.
(All begin to leave, following the prisoners with hands in the air)

IN FRONT OF CURTAINS

MAGISTRATE'S COURT

(Smart, 99, Bailiff, Prisoners, Scientists ... all standing in front of curtain waiting for Magistrate)

BAILIFF: All stand! Oops! We are all standing! Judge Judy (or appropriate to area) presiding ... all stand! ... I mean ... Silence in Court! ... Oops! It's already silent.

MAGISTRATE: (Frowning) Next case, Bailiff.

BAILIFF: Your Honour, the Prosecution calls Maxwell Smart.

MAGISTRATE: (Max walks near to Magistrate's Desk) What's the charge Mr Smart?

SMART: Hello, your honour, good to see you again.

MAGISTRATE: ... and you too Mr Smart (coughing into his fist) ... Ahem!

SMART: Your Honour, this time I intend to show the court (picks up Magistrates mallet, turns towards audience) how these crooks stole 2 cylinders of dangerous gas, intending to fly INTO (bangs mallet) jail. (Looking at handle) Err! Sorry about that Your Honour! (Magistrate stands and hands on hips, looks sternly at Smart)

MAGISTRATE: Do you have any witnesses to this crime?

SMART: Yes, Your Honour. The first witnesses is (indicating Vogel) Dr Who.

DR WATT: (pointing at self) Here, Watt, not Who. And that's Vogel.

MAGISTRATE: (not recognising where the voice came from) Who said that?

COBBITY: No, Watt said that!

SMART: Watt said what? I mean Who said what? ... Err! I mean, this is ridiculous.

DR WATT: Your Honour, I'm Dr Cecelia Watt ... from Krazee Chemicals.

MAGISTRATE: Welcome, Dr Watt!

DR WATT: This gang of thieves broke into our factory and stole a cylinder of our new anti-puncture gas ...

VOGEL: ... and a bottle of laughing gas.

SMART: I arrested them Your Honour, just as they were about to fly over the wall.

MAGISTRATE: They were breaking INTO jail?

SMART: Yes, Your Honour. Would you believe ... in a balloon? .. (Magistrate raises hand to speak, but Smart cuts in) ... I know, I know, I find it hard to believe myself!

MAGISTRATE: Bailiff!

BAILIFF: I'm convinced. I find these prisoners guilty as charged. Help them get into jail, this time through the front door. (Turning to Smart) Mr Smart, I'm putting you in charge of escorting these prisoners to the rock pile.

SMART: Right, Your Honour. Get in line you lot. We're going on a trip and only one of us is coming back ... ME!

(All exit front of Curtains as Choir begins "Breaking up big rocks on a chain gang ...")

(As song begins Verse 3, CURTAINS OPEN to reveal prisoners (as in ACT 1) on rock pile. Smart, 99, Warden and new prisoners in chains enter as song ends.)

ACT 5 Scene 2

WARDEN: There you are Mr Smart (pointing to Shifty and Bluey) Shifty and Bluey are still here where you sent them. (Shifty and Bluey make growling noises) ... still on the chain gang! (Guard brings Booza and Smithy over with lots of bandages) And these two just fell out of the sky!

SMART: Never mind how we deliver them (99 cuddles Smart) Warden. We sent by air mail. (then pointing to Gunny and Smokey) These two come by overnight express!

99: Ooh! Max, that was so smart!

SMART: I knew that, 99.

WARDEN: Well there's plenty for them to do here Mr Smart. And you deserve all the awards coming to you. (Pointing to Cook) Bring 99 and Mr Smart a cup of soup.

SMART: (Standing up on a box with cup of soup in hand – talks loudly to prisoners) Let that be a lesson to all of you! Crime does not pay. (Shoe phone rings ... he stoops down and takes off a shoe ... cup in one hand shoe in other)

99: Max, it's the Chief calling back. We have to go!

SMART: I knew that, 99. (Max holds cup of soup (water) up to ear, pours soup all over himself, then holds up shoe to other ear) Is that you Chief? Where am I? Oh! It's OK Chief, 99 and I are in jail, on the rock pile ... (pulls shoe away from ear) ... what do you mean, "How long did I get?" (Music starts, song begins again to end Play) 99 and Smart exits scene. Smart still on phone trying to convince Chief he is not locked up as he exits). (All sing song as curtains close)

SMART: Never mind how we deliver them (99 cuddles Smart) Warden. We sent by air mail. (then pointing to Gunny and Smokey) These two come by overnight express!

99: Ooh! Max, that was so smart!

SMART: I knew that, 99.

WARDEN: Well there's plenty for them to do here Mr Smart. And you deserve all the awards coming to you. (Pointing to Cook) Bring 99 and Mr Smart a cup of soup.
