FOREWORD

This book has been compiled to give children opportunities to develop their COMMUNICATION SKILLS. With the teacher's guidance, meaningful CLASSROOM DISCUSSIONS based on the TOPICS in this book can:

- i) develop self-esteem,
- ii) promote listening skills,
- iii) provide motivation for relevant written follow-up activities.

It is important for the class teacher to realise that every child is already at some point on the talking continuum. Therefore, in order to encourage the child lacking in confidence and fluency, allow him/her to:

- i) select a "favourite topic",
- ii) ask a stimulating question,
- iii) participate in the discussion, thereby achieving progressive acceptance and self-confidence.

The TOPICS and ACTIVITIES in this publication are also beneficial when programming for the coming year.

- Who are the child T.V. stars that you have seen? Are they clever?
- Do you know any kids who are clever? (play an instrument, water ski, quiz games)
- Why aren't we all clever?
- What would you like to be clever at?

follow-up

DICTIONARY — Look up ADROIT, GENIUS, TALENT, DOLT. Put each word in a question.

MUSIC — Read about MOZART and CHOPIN. At what ages did they make their first public performances? Tell the class.

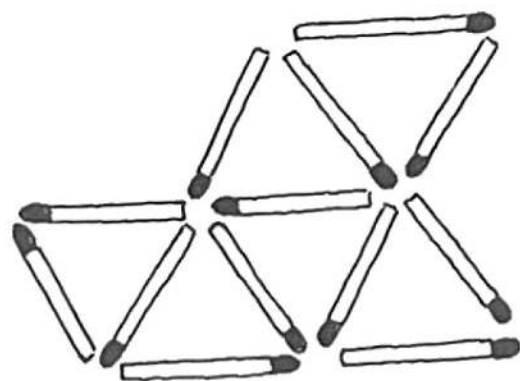

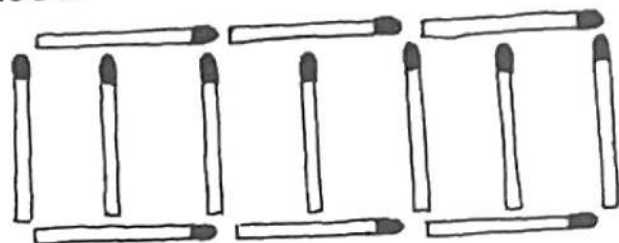

WRITTEN EXPRESSION — Write a report for a newspaper describing the wonderful concert at the Paladium last night — featuring you!

HOW CLEVER ARE YOU?

(with 13 matches)

Here are 13 matches enclosing six spaces.

Now, can you take one match away and rearrange the remaining twelve matches to still enclose six equal spaces?

Make this pattern with 13 matches. Now take away three matches and leave just 3 triangles.

When it's COLD outside, you can do something about it, (if you're CLEVER).

Change the word COLD into WARM in four moves.

You can change one letter at a time and each move must make a new word.
