FOREWORD

Children love RIDDLES. Riddles are complete Comprehension exercises in themselves. With this in mind, I have compiled these practical exercises in LANGUAGE skills.

The "RIDDLER'S STORIES" in this book contain answers to three or more riddles, interwoven through the story, motivating the pupil to read each passage carefully.

The Language exercises that follow provide the pupil with a comprehensive coverage of SPEAKING, WRITING and READING skills.

In each UNIT there are exercises in:

1. PRONUNCIATION
2. SOUNDS (and PHONIC SKILLS)
3. WORD ANALYSIS and ATTACK
4. SENTENCE STRUCTURE
5. GRAMMAR
6. PUNCTUATION (USAGE)
7. VOCABULARY
8. HANDWRITING
9. WRITTEN EXPRESSION

Also included for the child's enjoyment are:

1. JOKETIME CORNERS
2. FIND-A-WORD PUZZLES
3. WHO AM I? QUESTIONS

This book enables the pupil to learn language skills through brief enjoyable exercises, without the barrier of formal, indigestible English lessons.

The Riddler's Story

THE FLEXIBLE COBBLER

Nowadays, cobblers use a variety of materials when making shoes. Canvas, nylon, rubber and pig skins are very useful and efficient. A clever cobbler down Sole Street tried using banana peel too. It was not very good for school shoes but it made handy slippers.

This shoemaker experiments a lot with left shoes, but never gets them quite right. With his head down, the shoemaker hammers and stitches right through the day. To help school shoes wear longer, he leaves the nail head exposed in the sole of the shoe. The little nails must get a headache walking around upside down all day.

Who knows what this eccentric cobbler will do next? Perhaps he will call in the elves and leprechauns.

The Riddler's Questions

WHY DOES A SHOEMAKER ALWAYS HAVE TROUBLE MAKING THE LEFT SHOE?

i)

IF PIG SKINS MAKE GOOD SHOES WHAT DO BANANA SKINS MAKE?

ii)

WHAT ALWAYS WALKS WITH ITS HEAD DOWN?

iii)

PRONUNCIATION

Some people would say, "He never GITS it right."
The RIDDLER wrote, "He never GETS it right."
Practise saying these by reading them to your friend.

"GET off my foot."

"My towel is GETTING wet."

SOUNDS

Sometimes 'ch' is used as a 'k' sound. Find three words from the story containing 'ch'.

_____ a place of learning.
_____ a pain in the head.
_____ an Irish fairy.

JOKETIME ...

MUM: Did you do well in your language test dear?

SON: Yes, I made only one mistake, and I seen it as soon as I done it.

Now use your DICTIONARY to find the meaning of:

lichen _____

psychic _____ parochial _____ orchestra _____

WORDS

The RIDDLER used a lot of words with double CONSONANTS in the story. Can you find the words containing these doubles?

bb _____ ff _____ pp _____ mm _____

tt _____ ll _____ bb _____

Now put your hand on the back of this page and trace around it with a coloured pencil. Fill the shape with words containing double CONSONANTS. (Use a Dictionary).

SENTENCES

There are two sentences which contain 'but' in the RIDDLER'S story. Make them into four sentences by leaving out 'but'.

Remember your Capitals and
Full Stops!

iv) What did the necktie
say to the hat?

Copy these lines in your best handwriting style.

The Riddler's Story

DOWN ON THE FARM

Being a farmer sure has its headaches. One day it's flooding and your crops are ruined, the next day begins a long, grim drought. Perhaps that explains the actions of Bill Freeman with his "get-rich-quick" schemes. Bill lives on Bald Hill, high above his dairy down below, overlooking his vast potato crops in the valley. His dairy cows were not producing good-quality, rich milk though. Each day he fed them bales of hay to improve the quality of the milk. It wasn't until he added a quantity of crisp, five dollar notes to the feed that things improved. The cows produced just what he wanted — rich milk.

Another scheme started when his potato crop was ruined. Bill ploughed the plants in with a steam roller. That really smashed the potato crop. He said, "Now I'm the only one growing mashed potatoes, I'll make millions."

Bill now takes pills for his headaches. You know how hard pills are to get down; and you know how hard hills are to get up; well Bill faces both of these problems each day as he walks on Bald Hill.

The Riddler's Questions

WHY DID THE FARMER FEED DOLLAR NOTES TO HIS COWS?

i) _____

WHY DID THE FARMER PLOUGH HIS FIELD WITH A STEAM ROLLER?

ii) _____

WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN A PILL AND A HILL?

iii) _____

PRONUNCIATION

When pronouncing "Bill", your tongue should touch the top of your mouth. Instead of "MILLIONS" do you say "MIWIONS"? Say this sentence to your teacher. (Whole class or individually): "BILL wanted MILLIONS and MILLIONS of DOLLARS." Now make up a sentence with 5 "double-l" words in it.

SOUNDS

The 'or' sound can be heard in many words without having the letters 'or' in them.

Check the RIDDLER'S story to see how these words are really spelt: eg. shor = SURE

Borld Hill = _____ yor = _____ worlks = _____

Try these (NOT in the story):

chork = _____ exorsting = _____ stror = _____

crorl = _____ smorl = _____ shorl = _____

The Riddler's Questions

The answers must be in the STORY.

i) HOW DO YOU STAY COOL AT A CRICKET MATCH?

ii) WHY DIDN'T THE CRICKETER MEET CINDERELLA?

iii) WHY DID THE BOY WEAR WET TROUSERS TO THE CRICKET MATCH?

The Riddler's Story

A FAN FOR THE FANS

Have you ever seen the ONE-DAY CRICKET matches on TV? It is really exciting to watch the spectators in the stands. What a happy bunch. Between bowls and shouts, you can see some busily making sunshades and fans out of newspaper.

One spectator, who was extra hot, quickly moved out of the sun to sit near his mate, a real cricket fan. "Sitting near you should keep me cool," he said. Some of the revellers were wearing "wash and wear" jeans, soaking wet. One boy had washed them and worn them straight to the match, wet, obeying the instructions on the label.

One of the batsmen completely missed the ball. It skimmed right through to the wicket keeper. "Howzat?" they screamed. "He didn't meet Cinderella that time," shouted a spectator. We wondered what he meant

It's good watching the ONE-DAY CRICKET on TV, but it would be better to BE THERE.

PRONUNCIATION

Do you say, "I'm makin' a sunshade."? The RIDDLER said, "You can see some making sunshades." Practise saying these sentences out LOUD.

"No talking, running, visiting or shouting in the classroom."

"No pushing, 'bombing', running or littering around the pool area."

"No riding bikes, shooting guns or climbing trees in the park."

"No fishing, swimming, boating or camping in this area."

SOUNDS

The 'ch' and 'sh' sounds can come anywhere in a word.

Write 5 words with 'ch' from the story.

Write 5 words with 'sh' from the story.

Now choose two of these words and write them into a sentence.

WORDS

The RIDDLER used a HOMOGRAPH in the title of this story. (FAN can have two or more meanings).

A FAN is a _____

A FAN is also a _____

To FAN yourself means _____

In the first sentence there are two more HOMOGRAHS,

C _____ and m _____.

Show the meanings of these two HOMOGRAHS by using each word in 2 different SENTENCES.

{ _____

{ _____

SENTENCES

Short sentences are very effective. The two shortest sentences used by the RIDDLER in the story are:

iv) What athlete is the warmest in winter?

GRAMMAR

ADVERBS tell us about VERBS.
Many ADVERBS end with 'ly'.
Find the VERBS in the RIDDLER'S story that these ADVERBS describe.

ADVERB VERB from the story completely _____ the ball quickly _____ out of the sun

Now think of different ADVERBS to describe these VERBS.

I _____ ATE my lunch.

I _____ COLOURED my book.

I _____ COMPLETED my work.

Joe _____ REMOVED his jumper.

Tom _____ SHIFTED the desks.

Jan _____ WORE bright red socks.

PUNCTUATION

REWRITE this sentence the way it appears in the RIDDLER'S story.

A spectator shouted that the batsman didn't meet Cinderella. _____

We call this changing from INDIRECT to DIRECT SPEECH. Now try these.

INDIRECT SPEECH

Peter said that he had seen it. _____

Jo said that _____. _____

Ali asked him whether he had heard the news. _____

DIRECT SPEECH

Peter said, "_____."

Jo said, "This is what I want."

"_____?"

asked Ali.

UNIT 4

The Riddler's Story

WATER, WATER EVERYWHERE

What an amazing substance water is. No matter what its container, H_2O keeps running until it eventually rests at the bottom.

Did you know that sound will travel through water? A ringing bell placed under water, (even though it may protest, saying, "I'm wringing wet!") can be heard tolling through this colourless liquid. Next time you go for a swim, put your head under the water and shout to your friend. Then, when you get out, appreciate the coolness of the water droplets, as your towel gets thoroughly wet drying your body. Truly nothing matches water's versatility.

The Riddler's Questions

WHAT DID THE BELL SAY WHEN IT FELL INTO THE WATER?

i) _____

WHAT GETS WETTER THE MORE IT DRIES?

ii) _____

WHEN WILL WATER STOP RUNNING DOWNHILL?

iii) _____

Did you remember Capitals
and
Full Stops?

PRONUNCIATION

Some people add a 'k' onto their 'ing' words. They say "somethingk" and "nothingk". The RIDDLER'S last sentence in the story says, "Truly nothing matches its versatility." Read it out loud. Now read these:

"You can't get something for nothing."

"I like fishing and swimming."

"The bell was ringing and clanging."

"The old car was sitting, rusting away."

"At school we learn reading, writing and spelling."

SOUNDS

The word "towel" is usually pronounced as only one syllable - 'TOWL', but listen to the final 'el' sound on these words:

REPEL

SCOUNDREL

PANEL

PROPEL

PARCEL

NOVEL

Fill in the missing letters: TR__V__L R__B__L N__CK__L SC__LP__L

Now write each word in a sentence and read them to your friend.

WORDS

The RIDDLER used three 'ough' words in the story. They are _____,

_____ and _____.

There are many other 'ough' words.

Fill the spaces in these sentences with words containing 'ough'.

1. The pigs were eating their food out of a _____.
2. The baker was making a huge batch of _____.
3. "When the _____ breaks, the cradle will fall ..."
4. "Mum _____ me a brand new bicycle," said Sheila.
5. The farmers all agreed that they'd had _____ rain.

iv) Why is the baker always the richest man in town?

SENTENCES

The QUESTION.

Rewrite this sentence the way it appears in the story.

"I knew that sound will travel through water."

"Did _____?"

Now change the first sentence from the RIDDLER'S story into a question.

GRAMMAR

Remember, VERBS are ACTION words.

Many VERBS are called COMPOUND VERBS – they have two parts.

eg. The teacher IS COMING. ("IS COMING" is a COMPOUND verb.)

Julian HAS not TOLD his joke. ("HAS TOLD" is a COMPOUND verb.)

Use the correct form of the COMPOUND VERB in the sentences below.

The part of the verb that YOU write in these sentences is called the PAST participle because the event has ALREADY HAPPENED.

1. The H₂O HAS (freeze) _____ in the taps.

2. The runner HAS (drink) _____ her H₂O.

3. HAS the bell (fell) _____ into the H₂O?

4. The H₂O WAS (boil) _____ in the pipes.

PUNCTUATION

The COMMA is often used as a PAUSE in a sentence. Read the second last sentence in the RIDDLER'S story. When you come to a comma, click your fingers.

Now write a sentence of your own containing three or more COMMAS.

VOCABULARY

The RIDDLER said: Water is an amazing s _____.

Water is a colourless l _____.

Water forms into d _____.

Water is very v _____.

HANDWRITING

Copy these lines in your best handwriting style.

1. Water is H₂O.

2. "I'm wringing wet." (Care with apostrophe)

3. Nothing matches water's versatility.

4.  (Waves)

5. It's zero, it's freezing. (Care with 'z')

UNIT 5

The Riddler's Story

DOWN IN THE DUNGEON

Below the castle on Ifnii Island, there is a maze of dark dungeons. Although the castle is uninhabited, we can't say the same for the dungeons. Witches busily vacuum around their cauldrons each day, clearing away excess herbs and lizards' tails.

A number of ghosts move from room to room sweeping and making the beds. They need only one key, a skeleton key, to pass through the firmly fastened doors. Speaking of skeletons, they pull their weight too, working their fingers to the bones. There's one tired skeleton though. His name is Aaron. They sing the song "Lazybones" about him. Really, that is what they should CALL him. He's always too tired to work.

When the work is done, the witches put away their heavy vacuum cleaners. Although we live in an electrical age, they choose to fly about on lighter, smaller broomsticks. (Vacuum cleaners are much too heavy!) It sure is a hive of activity down in the dungeons.

The Riddler's Questions

HOW DO GHOSTS PASS THROUGH A LOCKED DOOR?

i)

WHAT DO YOU CALL A TIRED SKELETON?

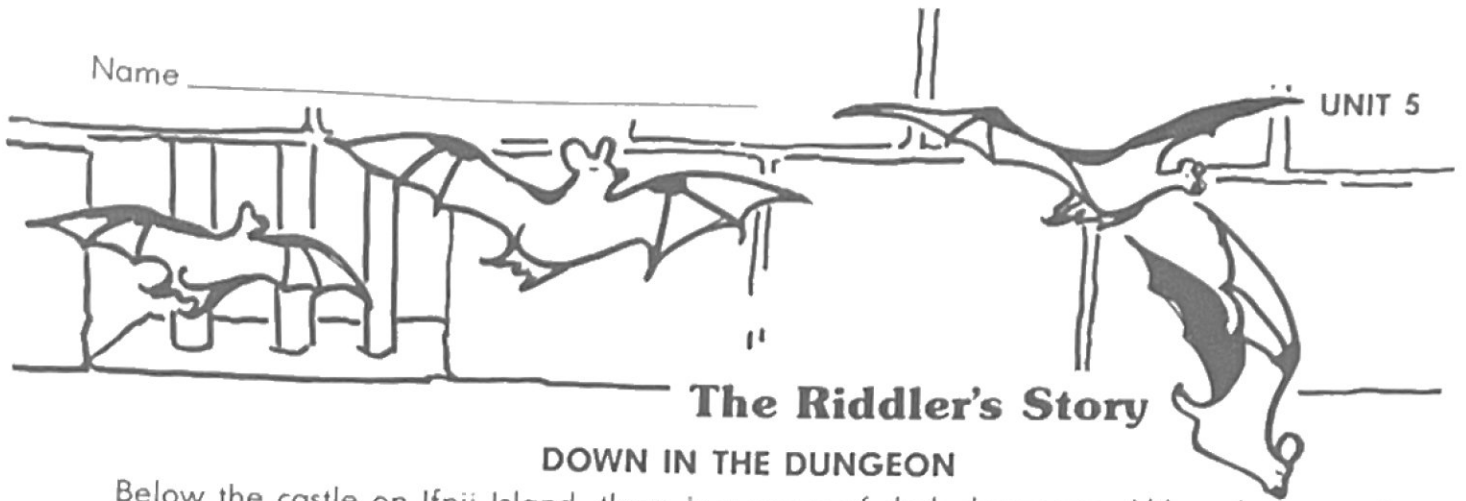

ii)

WHY DO WITCHES FLY ABOUT ON BROOMSTICKS?

PRONUNCIATION

In the story, the RIDDLER says, "Really that is what they should call HIM." If we speak too quickly, we might say, "Really that is what they should call 'IM.'" Be careful not to drop the 'H'.

Practise saying these to your Teacher.

"Do you know HIM?"

I am a _____.

WORDS

There are 5 vowels: a, e, i, o, u. The RIDDLER has included lots of words in the story with DOUBLE VOWELS. Can you find them?

There are four 'oo' words.

aa _____	ee _____	ii _____	oo _____
uu _____	oo _____	oo _____	oo _____

Can you think of more DOUBLE VOWEL words? _____

SENTENCES

When writing a sentence, you can often "reverse" the words to make it more interesting.

- i) Write the first sentence from the RIDDLER'S story.

- ii) Now write it again, but begin with "There is ..."

- iii) This time rewrite it beginning with "The castle ..."

YOU CAN TRY ONE OF MY SENTENCES.

YOU MAY CHANGE SOME WORDS ALTOGETHER!

GRAMMAR

PROPER NOUNS always have capital letters. Complete this exercise using words from the RIDDLER'S story.

PROPER NOUN

- _____ an island
 _____ the ghost's name _____ song title

Now make up your own PROPER NOUNS.

- _____ a city
 _____ a month
 _____ your friend

PUNCTUATION

Be careful with the APOSTROPHE OF POSSESSION on PLURAL words.

Copy this: one lizard's tail the three lizards' tails.

Did you notice the position of the APOSTROPHE on the PLURAL "lizards"? Now you can add the APOSTROPHE on these.

- one lady s hat the five ladies hats.
 one bird s nest..... the two birds nests.
 one boy s bike..... the four boys bikes.

VOCABULARY

UNIT 5(c)

The RIDDLER used some COMMON EXPRESSIONS in the story.

Can you explain what these expressions mean?

The Riddler's Questions

WHAT DO GIRAFFES HAVE THAT NO OTHER ANIMAL HAS?

WHAT KIND OF DOG HAS NO TAIL?

WHAT TIME IS IT WHEN AN ELEPHANT SITS ON YOUR FENCE?

The Riddler's Story

WHO'S WHO AT THE ZOO?

We had a great day at the zoo last week. Dad bought each of us a hotdog. Dad said that it was the only little dog in the zoo without a tail. We walked and walked, dripping tomato sauce down our shirts.

There were quite a few baby giraffes there too. Their long-necked mothers were protecting them from the nosey onlookers. Of course, no other mother in the zoo would have a baby giraffe in her enclosure.

When we arrived at the elephant enclosure, the keepers were mending the broken fence. Apparently it was time for a new fence to be constructed. When elephants play their elephant games, like "sit on the fence", the keepers are kept busy playing "mend the fence".

PRONUNCIATION

"only" NOT "uny"

Some people say, "I saw UNY one giraffe."

How would you say it? Read this sentence to your friend ... "I saw ONLY one giraffe."

Now have turns with your friend asking and answering these questions:

"Do you have two heads?"

"No, I ONLY have one head."

"Do you have a big mouth?"

"No, I ONLY have a small mouth."

Did you or your friend say "UNY"?

Remember to say "only" NOT "uny",
(you won't sound so funny!)

SOUNDS

There are two words in the RIDDLER'S story that have an 's' that sounds like a 'z'.

They are NO__EY and BU__Y.

Notice how the 's' in these words also sounds like 'z'.

ROSES, DOGS, GUNS, WAVES, JAMES.

Can you put 4 of these words into one sentence?

WHO ARE WE?

We are herd animals. Our leader is a wise old cow. Most of our herd is female, because the older males like to travel alone. In the early mornings we drink and bathe, snorting and squirting water over ourselves.

We have poor eyesight but a keen sense of smell. We grow very big and have long trunks.

We are _____

The Riddler's Story

ALONE IN MY MIND

On rainy, winter days, there is not much to do at home. I sit and stare out the window. My mind keeps asking me questions ... Why do people hold up their umbrellas like that? They do it as soon as the rain starts drifting down. Why are there some without umbrellas? They like to curl up their collars and lean against the wind. Why aren't there any birds walking about in the rain? Maybe they have all taken to the air. There's one going in the opposite direction, flying north. I wonder if any try to walk all that way ... it's probably too far.

Is that the doorbell ringing? Sounds like it is alive. I'd better answer it. At least the bell hasn't asked me any questions yet. I guess I'll just keep sitting here ...

The Riddler's Questions

WHAT DO YOU KEEP ANSWERING ALTHOUGH IT DOESN'T ASK QUESTIONS?

WHY DO BIRDS FLY SOUTH
FOR THE WINTER?

WHAT GOES UP AS THE RAIN COMES DOWN?

PRONUNCIATION

Some people say UMBERELLA when it should be UMBRELLA.

Can you see the difference? The added letter is ____.

Now read this five times.

"Cinderella's umbrella."

Talk with your teacher about these.

FILM not FILUM;

VERANDAH not VRANDAH.

SOUNDS

"GUESS" has a silent ____.

"ANSWER" has a silent ____.

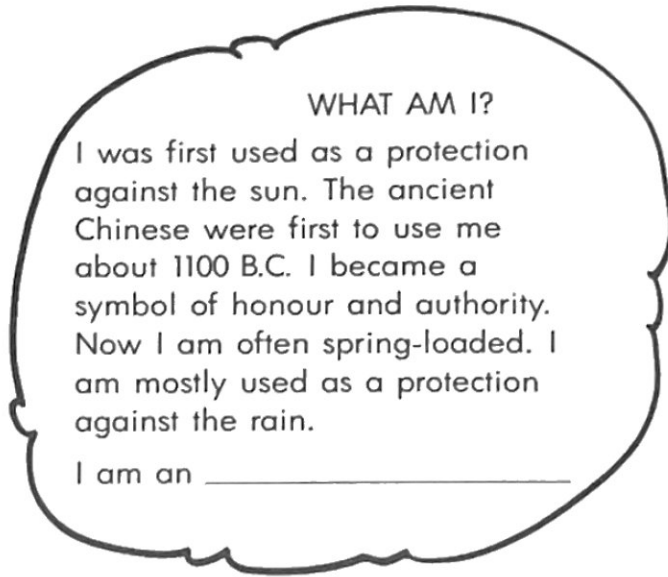

"ASKED" sounds like it should have the letter ____ after the 'A', but has it? _____

Here is a list of words with silent letters. Put a short, red line under the silent letters.

WORDS

The RIDDLER likes to repeat a letter in his sentences. This is called ALLITERATION.

eg. "sit and stare" repeats the letter S.

"walk all the way" repeats the letter ____.

"curl up their collars" repeats the letter ____.

Now write out the words of:

"SING A SONG OF SIXPENCE".

(Look for ALLITERATION)

Show the teacher your good work. Teacher's comment: _____

SENTENCES

Rewrite this question the way the RIDDLER wrote it in the story.

"Why do people hold their umbrellas UP like that?"

Did you notice the different position of the word "UP"?

Now rewrite these sentences, changing the position of the word "UP".

1. The teacher pinned the map UP.

2. We all held our hands UP.

3. "Why do peacocks hold their tail feathers UP like that?"

GRAMMAR

HOW THEN? PLEASE TELL US.

The Riddler's Story

A FOWL TALE

If you would like chicken for your next meal, there's certainly a variety from which you can choose. Perhaps "fried chicken" sounds good, or "roaster rooster". (Roosters hate the thought of becoming "roasters", by the way). "Boiling chooks" are available too, although some say they come from hard-boiled eggs. Maybe it's because they're tough and have to be boiled. If we go any further with this fowl tale, we'll get arrested for using foul language. That happened to a chook I once knew. It was enough to make a grown owl howl.

The Riddler's Questions

WHY DO ROOSTERS HATE THE LETTER 'A'?

i)

WHY WAS THE CHICKEN ARRESTED?

Silly chook!

ii)

WHERE DO YOU GET TOUGH CHICKENS FROM?

iii)

PRONUNCIATION

One boy said, "I have got FREE BROVERS." What did he mean? ...

The RIDDLER would say, "I have got THREE BROTHERS." Is that how you would say it? ...

Notice this sentence from the RIDDLER'S STORY: "If we go any FURTHER WITH THIS ..."

Read it out loud, pronouncing the 'TH'. Be careful not to say "FURVER" for "FURTHER" and "WIF" for "WITH".

Now read this together.

Three moTHers and THree faTHers arrived wiTH Their THree broTHers from LiTHgow.

SOUNDS

Put 'oo' AND 'oa' in the gaps, then read the pairs of words you have made.

room roam b____t b____t f____l f____l c____l c____l r____ster r____ster

Can you think of some more?

Put 3 pairs of words into sentences.

SENTENCES

Sometimes sentences can be REVERSED. Rewrite this sentence the way the RIDDLER wrote in "A FOWL TALE".

(By the way, roosters hate the thought of becoming roasters.)

Did you notice the position of the phrase, "By the way"?

Now makeup a new sentence of your own, containing "By the way". Write it and then REVERSE it.

My sentence: _____

Reversed: _____
